Not Your Typical Mission Trip

"This is the best thing I have ever done in my life. It's so exciting that God allowed women to help in such a special way." JoAnn, TX

We want to be upfront, you have never taken a trip quite like this one. Typically you might conduct a VBS, sing in the service, spend a day passing out tracts, or build a much-needed addition for the missionary — we don't do any of those things. Our goals are very different.

We have this unique opportunity to come alongside women and families who have been hurt and abused and be the hands and feet of Jesus. We minister to the wounded. Women are good at that. God has supplied us with the right combination of heart and compassion.

We listen to their stories, learn of their needs, empathize with their struggle, and do our best to minister to their lives. We do this as we sit, work, eat, and play together.

"We minister to the wounded, women are good at that."

When you return, we hope you have learned a little about the plight of women around the world. We trust you will dedicate yourself to praying as never before for the millions who do not know that Jesus is the hope for their brokenness. We are counting on you to become an advocate for women in crisis both at home and abroad.
